Gov. Welles, C. A. R.

Col. Alonzo Gray, president of the District Sons of the American Revolution, and Mrs. A. W. Barber, to whom much credit is given for the restoration of the 40 boundary stones which surround the District of Columbia, were the guest speakers at the meeting of the Gov. Thomas Welles Society, of the Children of the American Revolution, last night at the home of Mrs. Richard B. Owen. Robert Wilson, vice president of the society, presided.

Natalie Schneider, registrar, announced that papers had been filed for Marion Denson, Beatrice Mullen and Jessie Harden, and that Richard Riedel has been transferred to the Sons of the American Revolution. The meeting was concluded with the reading of a paper by Amy Veerhoff.

Home Economics

Ways and means employed in perfecting diets in penal institutions, and the great efforts put forth to keep within the allotted food budgets, were described by Dr. Paul E. Howe, of the Department of Agriculture, in his lecture Tuesday evening before the Home Economics Association at the Red Cross Auditorium. The subject of Dr. Howe's address was "Institutional Diets."

Dr. Walter H. Eddy, of the Wilson Teachers' College, will address the dieticians and nutritionists of the association at their next meeting on January 16. His subject will be "Some New Factors in Diet." The place of the meeting will be announced later.
